Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 25 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Damp start then turning brighter before a little showery rain.

Today:
After a damp and cloudy start, conditions will become more settled for a time with some bright or sunny spells. Turning cloudier again later with a little showery rain. Feeling cooler in the west. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Generally cloudy this evening and overnight with a mixture of rain and showers, as well as drier spells. Feeling quite mild overnight with light winds. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Saturday:
Showers with the occasional sunny spell through most of the day. These showers could turn heavy or thundery at times. Then becoming largely clear and dry by evening. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Cloudy with morning rain and later showers on Sunday as winds strengthen. Wet and breezy on Monday with some heavy bursts of rain. Largely bright and dry on Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.